BALKAN CRISIS NEARING CRITICAL STAGE

100,000 British Troops Reported in Southern Greece

HUNDREDS OF GERMAN PLANES TUNING UP ON BULGARIAN AIRPORTS

By ROBERT ST. JOHN
Belgrade, Yugoslavia, March 15.—(P)—Nearly 100,000 soldiers from Britain's imperial forces with shiploads of munitions, artillery, tanks and other mechanized equipment—enough for five divisions—have landed at five Greek mainland ports, it was reliably reported today.

This report first came from neutral diplomats and then was unofficially confirmed by British diplomatic circles in three southeastern European capitals. Correspondents were told privately by the British that the reports "probably are well founded."

Nevertheless, it was said that an official denial from both the British and the Greeks could be expected within the next 12 hours.

Ready to blast at the British and their Greek allies, German forces in Bulgaria were reported about the same time to have wheeled out hundreds of fighters, bombers and transport planes on their new landing fields—ready for instant action.

As reports of the British landings—coupled with the belief that Britain was occupying the southern half of the Greek mainland—spread through Yugoslavia, trucks loaded with fully equipped Yugoslav troops rumbled through the streets of Belgrade and railway stations teemed with conscripts called to active service.

Yugoslavia has been making military preparations for days while dithering over German demands that she join the Axis.

The first Yugoslav reaction to the reports was a stiffening of Yugoslavia's attitude toward Germany. Government sources indicated that an attempt would be made to forestall any further pressure "until the situation of Greece is clarified."

(Berlin professed to have no confirmation of the reports that the British had landed in force on Greek soil.)

Reports of the British expedition—vast multiplication of the said "neutral diplomats."

German circles here in the Yugoslav capital declared that the Balkan crisis is "reaching a critical stage."

Reports of the British landings in Greece apparently marked the end of any hope Germany might have had of forcing Greece to sue for peace under the threat of German forces massed on Bulgaria's Greek and Turkish frontiers.

Yugoslavia, important in the Balkan lineup because she offers another avenue for any German attack on Greece, still shied from aligning herself with the Axis. She was dithering for lighter terms than Bulgaria got.

Aside from the British landings in Greece, another factor which perhaps will impel Germany to move against the Greeks was a report from the Greek side of the war in Albania that the week-long Italian offensive had failed.

The story of the British landings in Greece was brought to Belgrade at noon today by neutral diplomats arriving from Athens.

A neutral diplomat told the Associated Press immediately on leaving his train that he had seen the disembarkation of British troops with his own eyes.

He described cheering British soldiers marching down the gangplank and off the billets.

Because of the difficulty of communication between Greece and other Balkan countries, and also because rigid censorship exists now in Greece, it is impossible to obtain confirmation of this diplomat's story.

The German legation in Belgrade declined any comment.

Neutral military observers arriving in Belgrade by air said 100 to 200 German military planes were being tuned up at the Sofia airport alone. Some were Germany's largest type bombers.

Similar preparations were reported being made at 24 other airfields taken over by German forces in scattered sections of southern Bulgaria.

(German forces have been massing there for two weeks, presumably to add weight to reported German pressure on Greece to give up her war in Albania and talk.)

Pipe Organ is Stolen From Loft in Theatre

Philadelphia, March 15.—(P)—The disappearance of a complete pipe organ from a neighborhood theatre baffled the manager but not police.

The manager, Oscar Forman, reported the organ, unused since the advent of sound movies, had been in the loft of the Byrd Theatre when he last looked five months ago.

After sleuthing for a few days, Detective Edward Casey and Albert Jones announced yesterday the arrest of a 17-year-old usher who they said had admitted hauling the organ away—piece by piece—since last November with the help of two friends.

They also disclosed the arrest of a junk dealer. He told them, they said, he paid the usher $36.40 for 324 pounds of lead, zinc and brass chimneys.

Washington, March 15.—(P)—A House subcommittee approved today a $7,000,000 appropriation for aid to Great Britain, and cleared the way for debate on the legislation to begin next Tuesday. The full appropriations committee will meet Tuesday morning to report the measure formally. Chairman Woodrum (D-Va.) of the subcommittee said that plans called for a final vote in the House not later than Wednesday night.

ATHENS CLAIMS GREEK LINES IN ALBANIA HOLD

Spokesman Declares Premier Mussolini Has Failed in Effort to Spur Troops and Must Go Back to Italy "Covered With Shame"

STAGE COUNTER-MOVES

Athens, March 15.—(P)—The Greek lines in Albania were reported still unbroken today after six days of violent Italian attacks apparently aimed at smashing the long stalemate in the Tepelen sector.

A Greek spokesman said Premier Mussolini, who was reported to have come to Albania a week ago to spur his troops on, had failed and must go back to Italy "covered with shame."

The High Command summed up the fighting yesterday in the following brief communiqué:

"The enemy again launched repeated and violent attacks on the same front x x x. He registered no success whatever despite considerable losses suffered. As a result of a counter-attack we took some prisoners."

An RAF communiqué said British fighting planes yesterday intercepted the Klišura area yesterday intercepted a large formation of Italian bombers escorted by fighter planes and (Turn to Page Nine)

TURKEY'S REPLY IS REPORTED ON WAY TO BERLIN

Berlin, March 15.—(P)—DNE, official German news agency, said today a high Turkish foreign office official arrived in Sofia, Bulgaria, yesterday enroute to Germany with a handwritten message from Turkey's president to Adolf Hitler.

A message from Hitler was delivered to Turkish president Ismet Inönü at Ankara by a 5-man commission March 4. Qualified sources said that the note declared the Nazis wished to look after Turkey's "interests and well-being."

Official quarters, however, said the message would have little effect on the pro-British policy of the country.

Istanbul, March 15.—(P)—Turkey's foreign policy remains unchanged since Germany's occupation of Bulgaria, the newspaper İktidat insisted today.

COLLISION IN PHILA. RESULTS IN FATALITY

Philadelphia, March 15.—(P)—A motorist was killed and three others injured early today in a head-on collision with a Philadelphia Transportation Company sand car beneath trucks of the Frankford elevated trains early today.

The dead man was Joseph Veitch, 36, of Feasterville, Bucks county, who died of a fractured skull and other injuries three hours after the crash. The injured included Muriel Kerrigan, 40, of Clarksville, Mercer county, who suffered possible fractures of both legs.

"DOLLAR-A-YEAR" MEN WILL BE QUESTIONED

Washington, March 15.—(P)—Several of the government's "dollar-a-year" men, it was reported today, will be called before a Senate defense investigating committee soon to explain whether they have connections with firms holding defense construction contracts.

The committee was organized this week, and Chairman Truman (D-Mo) told reporters that it would look into "all phases" of the defense problem.

Another member said that particular attention would be given to reports that some business men serving on government advisory groups stood to share in profits from contracts let by the army and navy on recommendations of those groups.

U. S. CORRESPONDENT IS ARRESTED IN REICH

Berlin, March 15.—(P)—DNE, official German news agency, announced today that a young American newspaperman, Richard C. Hottelet, had been arrested on "strong suspicions of espionage" in favor of an "enemy power."

Authorized sources declined to furnish any further information except that the United States "naturally is not an 'enemy power' and that 'the alleged espionage activities were in no connection with journalistic work."

To questions on the charges they replied, "the trial will bring that out."

TWO IN FAMILY DIE IN QUARREL

Pittsburgh, March 15.—(P)—A 42-year-old railroad worker, angry because his wife refused to give him $1, shot and wounded her, killed his father-in-law and then took his own life today at their home in Mt. Washington, near the downtown section. Police Sergeant J. J. Webber reported.

Webber identified the workers as Guy Marasco and the father-in-law as Ralph Gagliardi, 62, who lived at the Marasco home. Mrs. Anna Marasco, 32, shot four times, was feared to be dying at a hospital.

Marasco, the sergeant said, asked his wife for the money and when she refused, threatened her for attending a motion picture show yesterday.

Alarmed the wife and her father ran from the home. Webber said Marasco followed and fired at them as they reached an alley near their one-story Vincelliff street home. As the Marascos' five young children looked on, horror-stricken, (Turn to Page Nine)

PROMPT ACTION ON LABOR BILLS IS ANTICIPATED

Harrisburg, March 15.—(P)—Prompt passage of bills to prohibit court injunctions against strikers and banning employment of women in industry after 10 p. m. was forecast today by the Democratic majority of the house.

Rep. Leo A. Achlerman, the majority floor leader, said the bills would be approved and sent to the senate by next Wednesday. The legislature returns Monday for day and night sessions.

The measures have the support of the Democratic party, CIO and AFL labor leaders.

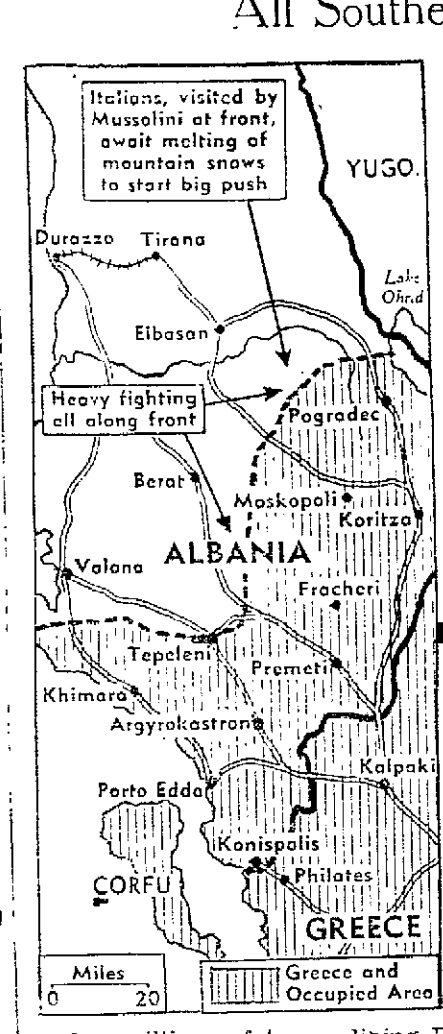

With the assembly in recess over the weekend, administrative departments on Capitol Hill brought these developments:

1.—Governor James sent state police to Bridgeville, Allegheny county, with instructions to "give protection" to those bringing finished goods from the Vanadium Steel Corporation plant where workers have been on strike for several weeks.

2.—The governor also announced creation of an emergency committee to function in case Pennsylvania experiences spring floods. Though the secretary of forests and waters, G. Albert Stewart, said he viewed the situation this year with "considerable optimism."

3.—James signed a resolution authorizing a committee of five to organize religious and social activities for Pennsylvanians in military training at Indian town camp and announced he would confer with the mayors of Harrisburg, Reading and Lebanon on Tuesday to work out details.

The labor bills come before the house for debate Monday night.

With millions of troops lining Balkan borders, sights trained on threatened foes, southeastern Europe is today the armed camp mapped above. Meanwhile, new action has flared in the Italo-Greek conflict as Italian troops begin prelude to spring offensive in Albanian theater enlarged at left.

GUILTY VERDICT IN WAYNESBURG HOMICIDE PLOT

Convicted of Conspiracy to Murder Wife So He Could Wed Another Woman, Gas Field Worker Faces Terms Totalling 14 Years

Waynesburg, March 15.—(P)—Convicted of conspiracy to murder his wife so he could wed another woman, Robert Headley, 49, Pine Bank gas field worker, today faced possible prison terms totaling 14 years.

After deliberating an hour and 45 minutes last night, a jury of eight men and four women found him guilty of conspiracy and assault with intent to kill. The maximum penalty for each charge is seven years.

Judge Challen W. Waychoff stayed sentence to allow defense counsel to prepare a motion for a new trial. At the request of Prosecutor A. M. Nichols, the court increased Headley's bond from $5,000 to $10,000.

Headley received the verdict impassively in a courtroom crowded with about 300 spectators. His two children, Patricia, 19, and John, 11, who testified in his defense, were not present.

Mrs. Otis Cumberlege, 55-year-old widow, who testified she had been intimate with Headley for several years, and her sister, Mrs. Elizabeth Pettit, 25, learned of the verdict in jail where they were held pending trial on conspiracy charges.

The sisters, both prosecution witnesses, related that, with Headley, (Turn to Page Nine)

Brotherhoods Agree to Submit Differences With Railroads to Mediation Conference

In Spite of Decision to Enter Discussion With Executives Counting of Ballots Being Cast by Members is Uninterrupted

By the Associated Press
Fourteen brotherhoods agreed today to submit their differences with the railroads to a mediation conference, but decided to go ahead with the counting of strike ballots now being cast by the workers.

George M. Harrison, president of the railway labor executives board, announced the brotherhoods' decision in Cincinnati. The national railway mediation board offered yesterday to mediate the dispute, but asked the brotherhoods to postpone the ballot counting.

Should the votes show a majority in favor of a strike, Harrison said the workers would not necessarily wait out, since the mediation discussions might produce a settlement.

TRIAL INVOLVING "PLAIN PEOPLE" IN JURY'S HANDS

Lancaster, March 15.—(P)—The fate of William G. Reday, 23-year-old Mennonite truck driver charged with murder in the homicide death of a 19-year-old girl, was placed with a jury of 10 men and two women shortly before 11 a. m. today.

Before the jurors were told by Judge C. V. Henry that they might return one of three verdicts—first degree murder, second degree murder or manslaughter.

Judge Henry said that he was unable to say any elements in the case to warrant a manslaughter verdict, but left this alternative to the discretion of the jury. He also explained that if they returned a first degree verdict they must fix the penalty, death in the electric chair or life imprisonment.

Reday heard Judge Henry's review of the case and instructions to the jury without displaying any emotion. Members of his family also were in the courtroom.

Stacked against the youth was his own admission that he killed Robert Harkness because he was jealous of the rival for the affections of Eva Martin, 19.

Throughout the trial the "plain people" crowded the courtroom—the women, including Miss Martin, wearing the black bonnets of the Dunkard, Mennonites and Amish sects.

Among them were the members of three families involved in the tragedy. The Rev. Charles M. Harkman, father of the victim, saying he held no bitterness, told Reday, "I have absolute faith in this court and the jury and no matter what the sentence when this is over I will be satisfied."

SECOND NIGHT VISIT MADE OVER GLASGOW

By The Associated Press
London, March 15.—German raiders poured bombs on the Clyde-side shipping district of Glasgow in a violent assault from dusk to dawn today while British warplanes blasted at the west German industrial centers of Gelsenkirchen and Düsseldorf and oil targets in Rotterdam.

The Nazi raiders, after ranging wide over England in the third successive night of the stepped up air war, returned today to strike at a north Midland village where 11 persons were killed and six houses demolished.

A northeastern English city also was attacked heavily overnight for the first time in the war.

In addition to the raid on Glasgow, the German High Command reported an attack on the English steel center of Sheffield, where several steel plants and an armament factory were said to have been hit. The German High Command also reported air assaults on London's Tilbury docks, port facilities in Plymouth and Southampton and at targets in Leeds.

The Air Ministry, reporting on the night's British offensive, said that the RAF's night industrial district, as well as Düsseldorf, Rhine port and manufacturing center, were hit in a "large scale action".

The RAF also raided shipping, andromes and docks from Norway to Brest, on the German-occupied French coast, the ministry's communiqué said.

AWAIT PLANS TO MOVE SUPPLIES

Bridgeville, March 15.—(P)—Removal of essential defense products from a strike-bound steel plant—under the protection of a state police detail ordered by Governor James—today awaited the completion of preparations by officials of the concern.

The governor said at Harrisburg yesterday he had directed state police to proceed to the Vanadium Steel Company plant at this suburban Pittsburgh community and "furnish it with the protection necessary to take out these products which are absolutely essential to national defense and which are holding up other plants."

The plant, which makes ferro-vanadium used in producing vital alloy steel, has been closed five weeks by a strike of the CIO United Vanadium Workers. The union claimed the company refused to hire six plant guards from a list of unemployed union members.

James said the national defense commission had tried unsuccessfully to obtain from the strikers permission to ship products out of the plant.

The governor said his decision was prompted by the urgency of national defense, and had no bearing on the labor dispute at the plant.

Record-Breaking Income Tax Returns in Sight as Deadline For Filing Arrives

By The Associated Press
While an army of harassed filers braced themselves against a record-shattering flood of returns, last minute tax-payers arrived today in the home stretch of the income tax derby to beat the deadline of midnight tonight.

In all three of Pennsylvania's internal revenue districts, collectors pointed to an all-time high in the total number of returns filed, far surpassing and possibly doubling those of last year.

While new records already have been established, today's final filings were expected to put the clerks' tally against a record-shattering flood of returns, from distant points and the usual tardy Pennsylvanians (and today last minute tax-payers arrived).

In Pittsburgh, Collector William D. Duncanson's figures for the first 13 days of March showed $5,700,000 in returns amounting to $6,557,808, as compared with 38,800 returns, totaling $4,237,812, for the same period of 1940.

Collector Joseph T. McDonald, Scranton, reported 107,000 returns (Turn to Page Nine)

SHEFFIELD ROD AND GUN CLUB HOLDS MEETING

Sheffield, March 14.—The March meeting of the Rod and Gun Club was held last evening in the American Legion Home with 35 members and guests present. A. K. Daniels, president, was in charge. The long discussed and oft deferred purchase of land suitable for a clubhouse and range site was the principal item of business. A proposal advanced at the last meeting was tabled when objections were raised as to the utility of the property in question. However, the club definitely will purchase some land this spring, probably within the next three weeks. The funds are available and the only thing that remains to be ironed-out is agreement on the site to be acquired.

Pres. Daniels announced that the state has begun its trout-stocking program and that this section will be receiving its share shortly. A meeting of the Warren County Council relative to the program will be held next Monday night in Warren, Daniels, who is president of the council, said.

A social hour followed the business session.

The local men said they encountered more snow in Lynchburg, Va., which community was hit by the recent severe coastal storm, than has been present in this section at any time this winter. Thursday morning, they witnessed the fire which gutted an entire block in the business section of Millington.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Eddinger have returned to Fallston, N. C., where last week they attended the funeral of Mrs. Daniel F. Eddinger, mother of the local woman. The decedent, who had been associated with the show business all her life, died in Fallston, March 3, the victim of a heart attack. The husband, two sons, four daughters and two grandchildren survive.

HEART'S HAVEN

YESTERDAY: John, Breitenbach, has at last achieved his dream of a home with the healthy heart. The young man, who has been in the hospital for a long time, has been able to leave the hospital and is now living in a small house on an island off the North Carolina coast, and is now living in a small house on an island off the North Carolina coast, and is now living in a small house on an island off the North Carolina coast.

Chapter Four
Island of Mystery

THE island Brett Rodman was approaching slowly took shape across the wide expanse of blue water as he turned to the man at the wheel of the motor boat and once more tried to get some information from him.

"I suppose there were some great goings-on in this old place when the first owner lived here," he observed. But his casual manner did not throw the boatman off his guard.

"Couldn't say," that individual assured him. "That's afore my time."

"In your grandfather's time, then," Brett suggested. The man at the wheel made a sound, but whether it was meant to be negative or affirmative, Brett could not decide. Chatter lot of people around here, he thought to himself. I wonder what it would take to get the right time from this guy!

But the island was so close now that the taciturn boatman was all but forgotten. Brett could see two chimneys and a line of dark trees—pines, he guessed. So fascinated was he by the rapidly unfolding panorama that he scarcely noticed when the chugging of the motor ceased.

"Well, you can get out here, I reckon," drawled the boatman, and Brett saw that they were near a sandy beach. "Either thought there would be a landing of some sort, a pier, you know," Brett began.

"Mebbe so—but I'm a landin' here."

The boatman threw a rope over what struck Brett as a rather lumpy sandy spot protruding from the sea. There seemed no choice, so Brett leaped ashore.

"Don't you want to run up to the house with me?"

The man in the boat shook his head. Brett waited for some comment. When none was forthcoming, he started rather gingerly to "You make better time along the shore," the boatman descended to grumble at him. "Keep a-go-in till you reach sight of the house. That's a path."

The beach was a narrow strip of sand, not particularly easy walking. But there really was no hurry. He had hired the motor boat by the hour, and making the old rascal wait seemed a nice thought just then. He propped himself against a curve in the shore line and brought the house into view. Instantly Brett's professional impulse got the better of him. He stood still, for a full minute, staring.

The house he saw was oddly arresting; it had the piquant quality of some faces, in which the features are not quite harmonious, but the general effect is striking. He walked hurriedly now until he faced the front entrance, then stood absorbed, his eye following the line of pillar, and roof, and the two wings which flanked the central building. He noticed, but gave only a passing thought to, that just beyond this spot was a pier with the boatman could very well have used.

"It took money, and plenty of it, to build this shack way back in those days," he said aloud. "And the architect must have been insane!"

The main building was two and a half stories high, and the wings on either side, balanced each other, except for the two roofs. These were both steep, but otherwise had little in common. Each was broken by a series of gables that projected here and there, with a complete lack of anything like uniformity.

"English necessity," Brett pronounced it, "with lots of pure originality thrown in!"

He found the path which the boatman had mentioned and began to make his way along it. This was no easy matter, for what had once been a broad gravel walk was now no more than a wandering ghost of a path. There were no trees in front of the house. Brett noticed that the woods which had almost screened the place from view on the side of the island where he had landed were confined to half the island only. On the other side of it, from what he was able to see of the land beyond, there were scarcely any trees at all.

Curious Reception
A COMPLETE silence hung over the scene—almost as tangible as the morning mist which still clung to the lowlands, but which Brett noticed, as he progressed, was leaving behind. Then he realized for the first time that he was climbing upward quite a bit, and that the house stood at the end of what had been originally a flight of broad grassy steps, which had washed them down.

and then himself had almost smoothed them flat into the hillside.

The front of the house was rounded outward in semi-circular effect, and there was an upper and a lower porch. Perfectly proportioned Corinthian pillars upheld the roof. The central building was crowned by a dome, which Brett observed with some surprise, seemed entirely in keeping with the rest of the architecture.

By the time he had reached the bottom of the highest terrace Brett had come to two decisions about the house. Mrs. Marbury would go into hysterics of delight at her first sight of it. That was decision number one. The second decision was: this was no place for a house-party, in its present state of disrepair. He must take a hasty look around and then hurry back to the village to head off Mrs. Marbury and the crowd before they got started.

The boards of the porch were half gone. Brett picked his way to the front door and before pulling the brass knob, black as iron with age and neglect, turned to survey the scene. Even in the midst of its tottering decay the place was lovely; he could readily visualize the beauty it had held in the days of its glory.

A sound behind him made him swing around sharply and a cracked voice suggested: "Better get goin', Buddy. This here's private property."

Nearly 300 Attend Birthday Party of County Girl Scouts

Nearly 300 Girl Scouts and leaders gathered in the Y. W. C. A. activities building Friday afternoon from 4:15 until 5:30 o'clock to attend the birthday party given by the Warren County Council.

The groups came from Clarendon, Sheffield, Russell, Pittsfield, Tidioute, Youngville and Warren.

The flag ceremony officially opened the program, after which Mrs. Paul Specht, member of the Manhattan Council for seven years and now leader of the South street troop here, spoke on the founding of Girl Scouting and the fundamental principles of service and fun which have drawn more than 2,000,000 girls into the organization in its 29 years.

The original playlet presented by McClintock Troop No. 13 at the Thursday evening party for leaders was repeated and the moving picture of the Pan-American encampment at Camp Andree Clark was shown.

The final feature of the program was the serving of refreshments by Mrs. Paul Coc, hostess, and Mrs. Nelson Johnson, assistant, with members of Troop 21 of Trinity church as aides.

Mrs. Davidson Will Speak at Musicale Benefit at Y.W.C.A.

Plans are progressing nicely for the Lenten musicale and tea which the local Y. W. C. A. is sponsoring on Saturday, March 22, for the benefit of its war work fund.

Mrs. J. A. Davidson, wife of the First Baptist pastor, has been secured for the program, which will begin at three o'clock. The detailed musical program is to be announced later by the committee, which is anticipating a very large attendance. Tea will be served from 4:00 until 5:30 o'clock.

Tickets for this benefit may be purchased from the board members or members of any club; also at the office. Mrs. Franklin Hoff is general chairman and is being assisted by Mrs. H. C. Warren as co-chairman; the president, Mrs. Carl Lundahl; secretaries and club officials, and Mrs. W. F. Bennett, chairman of the tea.

SEGEL BUILDING IS DAMAGED BY FIRE IN CELLAR

Several families were forced to vacate their apartments this morning when a blaze caused by hot ashes, piled on a wood floor, did considerable damage to the basement of the Segel building, 229 Pennsylvania avenue west, and filled the entire structure with smoke.

The fire department answered the call about four o'clock and had the blaze under control in about an hour, confining the major part of the damage to the basement.

The fire fighters remained on the scene until nearly nine o'clock, cleaning up the debris. The fire burned the greater part of the flooring around the furnace.

The first floor is occupied by the Warren Billiard Academy, and the loss there was mainly to the billiard tables, caused by water.

The building is owned by Louis Segel.

Menus of the Day

- ### Orange Rolls
- 1/2 cup orange juice
4 tablespoons butter
1 teaspoon grated orange rind
1/2 cup water
1 tablespoon lemon juice
- Boil ingredients a minute. Cool, then pour into eight greased muffin pans—or you can use one large shallow pan, pouring in all the liquid. Add the rolls.
- ### Rolls
- 2 cups flour
1 cup milk
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 cup butter
1/2 cup yeast
1/2 cup salt
1/2 cup oil
1/2 cup vinegar
- Mix flour, baking powder, sugar, rind and salt. Cut in fat and slowly add milk. When soft dough forms, pat it out until 1/3 inch thick. Spread with rest of ingredients. Roll up and cut off inch slices. Arrange, cut sides down in pans. Bake 20 minutes in a moderate hot oven—about 375 degrees. Serve warm.
- Egg sauce on cod or halibut, and tomato or tartar on sole or haddock, are helpful fish tips.

STUDENTS WILL BE GIVEN NEW CLASSIFICATION

Draft boards of the state today were notified by Governor James that "students and other registrants in training" given a deferred classification must be reclassified on July 1 after schools close for the summer vacation, according to an Associated Press dispatch from Harrisburg.

The governor transmitted to local boards an explanatory order from national headquarters of the Selective Service system calling attention to a provision in the act for expiration of student deferments on July 1.

"The proper classification of students and other registrants in training or preparation constitutes one of the major problems of the Selective Service System," the order read. "Marked concern has been manifested by educators and other interested persons with respect to the status of students, after July 1, 1941, particularly those students enrolled in professional, scientific, technical or highly specialized fields of endeavor."

The local boards specifically were directed at that time to reopen the cases of students classified in "1-D" or "1-F" and that they should give consideration to any "evidence of changed status which may have occurred since classification."

"Students or other registrants undergoing instruction may be deferred in Class 1-A by the local board where the necessity for which the registrant is in training or preparation is essential to the national health, safety or interest, and the registrant is found to be a necessary man," the statement said.

In determining whether a student is a "necessary man," the statement said, the "local board should give due consideration to such factors as the length of time which the student has been pursuing the course in question, his relative progress and standing in such course, and his relative chances for employment or placement in the activity for which he is preparing."

An Appeal to Church Workers Who Prepare Notices for Publication

Attention of church workers who prepare notices for this page is called to the fact that, while no restrictions are placed on the length of such announcements, it will be necessary to do so if the practice of writing them too lengthy is not halted.

It has been the policy of the Times-Mirror to print church items as submitted, without correcting or deleting, but in recent weeks some of the notices have been far too long, until they are taxing the facilities of the composing room.

If notices are confined to church schedules for Sunday and the week, along with sermon topics and any other brief reminders, they should not run over two or three inches.

The co-operation of all church officials and Sunday school workers is solicited, to the end that it will not be necessary to arrange forms or edit notices in the future.

Swiss Novelist Enters Stamps' Hall of Fame

PRETTY girls and famous have illustrated Switzerland's annual "For Youth" semi-postal since 1933. The 1940 series adds three more beauties, including the one shown above. The girls are dressed in traditional costumes of the districts of Thurgau, Solothurn and Zug.

Gottfried Keller, a landscape painter's apprentice who became a famous novelist, is the famous Swiss honored in the set. Keller, pictured on the stamp below, was born in Zurich in 1819. Abandoning his art studies in Munich, he returned to Switzerland, obtained a pension which permitted him to enroll in Heidelberg.

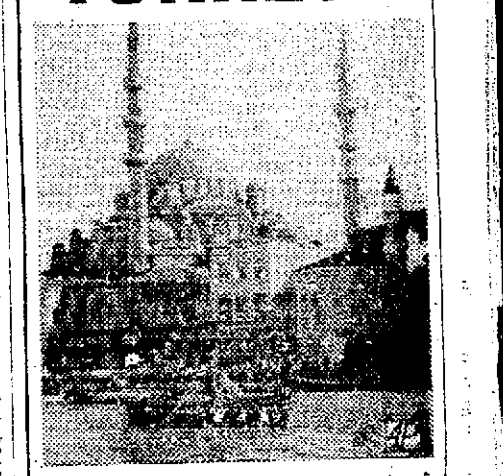

His novels were written in German, gained him a high place among German writers. Keller's poetry ranks with that of the greatest German poets of the 19th century.

Girls Drive Cabs as in World War

Because the army and defense industries are draining off manpower, a Baltimore taxi company claims it has been forced to revert to its 1917-18 practice of hiring girl drivers. Here Dorothy Alsop, former waitress, touches up while waiting for fare.

Bradford Wallops Giants In District Nine Semi-Final

Owls And Knox Will Clash For Title At Kane Tuesday Night

By the Associated Press

One of the most publicized high school basketball players in Pennsylvania, since the days of Charley Hyatt at Uniontown 16 years ago, takes the floor again tonight in the annual P. T. A. A. scramble for the state title.

Francis "Chink" Crossin, who has been virtually unstoppable, will be the center of attraction when Luzerne's rough riders tangle with Freeland for the District Two crown at Kingston.

If Crossin tosses baskets from all angles Luzerne will chalk up its 24th straight victory and join ten other district champions in the interdistrict eliminations that start next week.

The Luzerne-Freeland tilt overshadowed the Duquesne-Alliquippa game at Pittsburgh for the District Seven crown. The two games complete the district title play except in District Nine where Knox, Clarion county champion, opposes Bradford at Kane Tuesday night.

Five district champions, Franklin Boro, Sharpville and Clarks Summit, were crowned last night in the state race was cut to 15 quintets.

Lower Merion captured the District One title for the third straight year, beating Ridley Township, 34 to 25. Williamsport shared the District Four pennant ending Wellsboro's 20-game winning streak, 56-33.

Franklin Boro, coming from behind in the last three minutes to overcome a five-point handicap, won District Six laurels by nailing out Huntington, 37 to 35.

Sharpville, the surprise team in District Ten, continued its victorious march by edging past Franklin, 25-22. Clarks Summit retained its District 12 crown defeating Dalton, 39 to 33.

Bradford, upset Brookville, 43 to 26, in a semi-final District Nine clash.

Here are the 15 survivors of the elimination competition:

District One—Lower Merion.
District Two—Luzerne and Freeland.
District Three—Gettysburg.
District Four—Williamsport.
District Five—Everett.
District Six—Franklin Boro.
District Seven—Duquesne and Alliquippa.
District Eight—Williamsburg Fifth Avenue.
District Nine—Bradford and Knox.
District Ten—Sharpville.
District Eleven—Mahanoy City.
District Twelve—Clarks Summit.

Following is the summary of the Bradford-Brookville tilt at Kane:

	FG	FA	F	T
Benson, f	1	0	0	0
Frisina, f	4	2	2	2
Barry, f	5	4	2	12
Fling, c	3	2	8	8
Witcher, g	2	1	3	8
Polg, g	4	0	0	8
Moffat, g	0	1	0	0

CONSISTENCY MARK IS SET AT ARCADE

Giffin, of the Titusville Kendall Oils, set a new mark for consistency last night at the Arcade.

When, in a match with the Koch's-Texas team, he rolled three games of 203 for a 609 total.

His total was high for the evening and aided the Queen City rollers in splitting even with the local.

Dick Check hit 227 for high single and his 382 was top block for the Texas Lunch.

BELLOISE HITS DECK FOR KEEPS IN FIRST ROUND

New York, March 15—(P) Perhaps the brightest future champion prospect in the boxing business right now is Tami Mauriello, a husky Bronx boy who has been fighting professionally less than two years.

Tami still needs experience and "cuteness," but he's a lad who can hit 'em so they stay hit and he has chances to go to the top in either of two confused divisions—middle-weight or light heavy.

The punch and opportunity both were on display in Madison Square Garden last night before some 14,000 fans when Mauriello knocked out his neighborhood rival, Steve Belloise, in 2:58 of the first round of what was to have been a ten-round fight.

It took only about a half dozen wallops to give Tami, a 1-2 underdog, the victory that put him back on the road toward a possible shot at the middleweight title.

Against Belloise, Tami ran in with his right cocked and sighted on Steve's jaw. A left to the body pulled Steve's hands down and a right floored him for a count of nine. Twice more it happened and the third time Steve pulled himself to his feet he was barely able to stand and wait for Mauriello's chopping right. The sent him sprawling through the ropes to end the fight.

The Bucks copped three from the Bears in the Knights of Columbus circuit, advancing on the idle Tigers.

In the other match the Lions, cellar occupants, chalked up a clean sweep at the expense of the Bears.

Frank Gerardi with 214 and 265 was the best individual performer.

SPORT MATTERS

One of the best moves made in District Ten P. T. A. A. circles to date was the election of Director of Athletics Jake Leidig to the governing board. As we have often stated, it is our opinion that one of the major weaknesses of the entire set-up was the complete domination of the body by principals, and the ignoring of coaches. Leidig has been affiliated with scholastic athletics in this city since 1912 and is also assistant principal of the high school, these jobs giving him an insight into and understanding of the problems of both departments. We agree that a governing board made up of coaches would be a disastrous situation, but we maintain that the mentors should at least be given a chance to venture an occasional opinion, and we hope that future elections may result in balancing up the interests.

From a personal standpoint, the naming of the local man is also a fortunate choice. Coach Leidig has the happy faculty of being able to think a problem through to the best possible decision, and faultless in his charge above material matters and may be counted upon to support legislation which will benefit those participating in athletics, as well as the schools they represent. His years of experience in directing players on and off the field and the handling of the administrative affairs of the athletic association should prove of value to his colleagues on the District Ten board. From conversations we have had with other school men and coaches in the northwestern section, we have learned of the regard in which Coach Leidig is held by them, and there is no doubt that his advice will be given utmost consideration. A typical bit of Leidigiana to be added to our collection is his reaction when informed of his election. "I hope it won't take up time which might otherwise be given to the boys," quoth he.

That how you heard last night shortly after 7:30 from the direction of the hilltop was not the famous cry of Kane High's Wolves, but was emitted by Bradford and Brookville fans who were soaked a buck a head to see the District Nine semi-final. And our good friend, Johnny Nelson, sports editor of the Bradford Era, and champion of causes, lost and otherwise, reared right up and lashed out with both feet as follows:

"It seems about time that some school official marched into a meeting of the governing committee of athletics in District Nine and proposed the dictatorial policy which the gentlemen apparently have adopted. Or perhaps I'm mistaken and there is nothing wrong with having the committee draft a basketball playoff system without even so much as consulting any of the schools concerned, and then suddenly jumping the price of a semi-final contest to one dollar, with the schools having no choice in the matter."

"At the present time this district has four leagues which produce challenges for the championship. Two of them are located in the northern tier and two in the southern. A logical plan for a tournament would be to match the two winners in the North and two in the South. Then the surviving clubs would play for the title."

"However, the committee had other ideas. It ordered the two northern teams to play off and then popped out with a schedule which forces the North League champ to beat both of the southern clubs in the space of five days to gain that championship. And all Knox of the Clarion County League has to do is wait until all other teams except one have been eliminated. Then Knox steps into the final championship picture."

"When the committee announced the $1.00 ticket scale for the Bradford-Brookville game, the local school officials made a protest at once, but were told that the committee needed money and decided that game would serve the purpose. That's the story."

YEARS AGO IN SPORT

March 15, 1921—As a result of Kane's beating the Nameless Five at Kane last night, Clarence Walters, clerk at the Pickett Hardware Co. store, had a free ride around the block in a wagon pulled by the young lady cashier of the store. The agreement was that the loser was to be drawn around the block, and Clarence lost!

March 15, 1931—Sports fans of the community are about evenly divided between the Yes Gas and the Warren Merchants as the time for the series between the two teams approaches. The Yes Gas has much the better of it in the win and lose column, with only four defeats out of 26 games, and has played teams of a little higher calibre. However, anything can happen in a three-game series.

THE DOPE ON PEARSON

Monte Pearson made his debut with the Reds the other day. We don't know how he impressed Bill McKelvey, but he baffled the experts.

Cincinnati Enquirer: Pearson escaped unscathed, but had little on the ball.

Cincinnati Times-Star: There was nothing wrong with Pearson's arm... he had a lot on the ball.

THE BOSTON GLOBE sent one of its ace writers to Melrose Dam to cover Frank Leahy's debut... which gives you an idea how Mr. Leahy plans to pattern the Notre Dame play after the system he installed at B. C. Detroit will get one of the snappiest dressers in amateur golf when John Oswald moves there from Lansing in June.

Babe Dahlgren predicts great Gordon is going to make a great first season. Tim Sullivan, Yankee bat boy who is in St. Pete with the club, was forced into the background when the bat boy for the visiting team went about his duties smoking a pipe. Who was it said, "United we stand, divided we fall?" ... Ans. later.

BABICH KEY MAN Sheffield Cage Five IN A'S CAMPAIGN Won Only Two Games; TO QUIT CELLAR Campasino Was Star

Anaheim, Calif., March 15 (AP) Late last September Connie Mack sent a big six-footer out on the pitcher's mound in Philadelphia with orders to smash once and for all the hated but threatening onrush of the Yankees to their fifth consecutive American League championship.

The Yankees were on the march. They had but a slim chance of overhauling the squabbling Cleveland club or catching the determined Detroit Tigers, but eight straight victories were behind the defending champions and it was up to this pitcher of the eighth-place Athletics to put the crusher on them.

He did, meaning Long Johnny Babich of Richmond, Calif., in a game of fives. He chalked up his fifth victory of the year over New York, ending their fifth-straight pennant hope. It was a masterpiece of hurling five-hit game.

Today Connie Mack is depending upon that same Babich, an ex-Yankee farmhand as the main gun of his drive to leave the cellar. Babich again is his best hurler—and he and Mr. Mack and the rest of the A's face a tough but not impossible task.

Back of Babich and what help he can get from the rest of the mound corps are three hefty swatters, Wally Moses, Sam Chapman and Bob Johnson, the A's outfield. Chapman, the former California football great, has looked better than ever in spring training, and there is no reason to think Johnson or Moses will slip this year.

The Mackmen also have one of the heaviest hitting catchers in the league, clean-up man Frankie Hayes, to help pour over the runs. There is nothing wrong with the club's hitting power.

Defensively speaking, Mr. Mack has a main-line worry in his infield. Dick Siebert will be back at first base, and Pete Suder seems to save the inside track for third.

Crash Davis and Benny McCoy are having a struggle for second, with Davis pointed toward ousting the luckless, expensive McCoy, and another tussle is going on for the shortstop position between Al Brancato and Fred Chapman.

If some of the A's doubtful seahorses, Lovell (Chub) White Sox, Jack Knott from the White Sox camp, Nelson Potter, Porter Vaughn or Lee Ross should come through, the Mack burden would be relieved immensely. And either of the coterie might.

SCHOLASTIC PASSERS JUST GO ON AND ON

The basketball season may be ended for Warren High School, but next year's candidates still retain their enthusiasm. Three games were played last night at the high school gym, with reserves, second and third team men participating in a six-team loop which will play each evening next week.

Sheffield, March 12 On the basis of available records of Sheffield High school varsity basketball, the Wolverines' 1940-41 season recently concluded, was the worst from the win-loss standpoint that the Orange and Black has ever experienced. The team won but 2 of 17 games played.

The two victories were recorded at the very outset of the season against Marienville and James City, Class B opponents. Another Class "B" opponent, Ludlow, handed the team its first setback after which followed 14 more consecutive defeats.

The Drummondmen scored a total of 402 points in the 17 games, but gave up 584 to the opposition, a difference of 182. Against North League competition, the Wolverines scored 355 points, but lost 531, a difference of 176 less than the 531 points registered against them by Warren, Kane, St. Marys, Ridgway, Emporium, Johnsbury and champion Bradford.

With a veteran team on hand at the opening of the campaign, it seemed likely that Coach Tom Drummond's club would have a fairly successful season, but the high hopes of the team's coach and its followers were suddenly dashed with the playing of the Ludlow, or third game of the campaign when occurred the "Ludlow incident" which forced a complete revision of the Wolverine team.

That incident consisted of six of the Wolverine players thoughtlessly breaking a training rule, an act which forced Coach Drummond, in the interest of discipline and team harmony, to suspend the group for the remainder of the season.

Campasino with 103 points to his credit led his mates in scoring and was the only player to top 100 in point getting. Steffan was second high with 92 points in 16 games and Yusko was third with Monterey, Mexico—The St. Louis Browns and Boston Bees brought an all-major league exhibition series to Mexico for the first time in history today. The two teams planned to start their best lineups to commemorate the occasion. Manager Casey Stengel of the Bees was worried about Chet Ross, who may be out 10 weeks with an ankle injury. There also was talk that Buddy Hassett may be dealt to the Washington Senators.

St. Petersburg, Fla. Johnny Mize, the holdout slugger who is living at a cottage only a dozen miles from the St. Louis Cardinals' camp, was expected to confer with club officials today, although Branch Rickey said no definite appointment had been made.

Orlando, Fla.—Ernie Lombardi's signature didn't end the Cincinnati Reds' backstopping problems. The big catcher still is limping from the ankle he injured late last season and has been ordered to give it a rest, and Dick West, the rookie touted as a possible successor to the regular job, has shown an alarming weakness on high, twisting fouls. He dropped four of them in five exhibition games and failed to reach three others that he was

Of the 15 varsity players only 7 will be lost through graduation or the semester ruling. They are: Pete Otto, Pochatko, Anderson, Olson, John Sorvelli, Reggie Aurilio and Eugene Champion. All the others, including two of the boys suspended this season, are slated to return to school next fall.

The Wolverine Jayvee team compiled a somewhat better season's record than did the varsity, winning 6 and losing 10. One game scheduled, the return engagement with St. Marys, was not played. The Seconds scored 280 points and surrendered 357 to their opponents. One of the locals' defeats was a 21-0 shutout by Bradford.

Players not listed with the varsity who saw service with the Jayvees include Beryl Burlingame, Carl Heel, Lloyd Albaugh, Gerald McDowell, Sidney Brown, John Simko and Dick Okerberg. Okerberg, Simko, McDowell and Albaugh are seniors.

GRANGE LEADERS OF DISTRICT TO ATTEND MEETING

Lloyd F. Wilcox, state deputy, reports that Grange officers from four northwestern Pennsylvania counties will join for a regional conference and school of instruction in the Community church at Columbus on Thursday, March 20.

Speakers and leaders for the day will be the master, the lecturer and the secretary of the Pennsylvania State Grange: Kenzie S. Bagshaw, O. Walker Shannon and Miles Horst, assisted by the juvenile superintendent, Mrs. Lucy C. Shumway.

The meeting will afford Grangers of this entire section an opportunity of meeting state Grange officers and of taking their problems directly to the leaders for discussion and suggestions. It will be the first official visit to this section of the new state lecturer, Mr. Shannon, of Beaver county.

California has 285,000 acres of state-owned parks.

County Agent's News

Give Chicks Enough Feeding Equipment

Getting ready for chick rearing requires careful consideration of equipment needs, much more than in the days of the old "setting" hen. This equipment must not only do the job expected for good growth of the chicks but there must be enough of it.

County Agent O. C. Tritt explains that some poultrymen have three sizes of feeding equipment for the rearing period: two for use during the early brooding period, the other on range.

For good results with chicks from one day to two or three weeks of age, there should be 12 inches of feeding space for every 10 chicks. An 18-inch feeder will accommodate about 30 chicks. That means 10 such feeders for 300 chicks.

When chicks are older they also are larger, eat larger quantities of feed, and so fill up the feeder space. Therefore, after two or three weeks of age, the space must be doubled. Large equipment also will reduce the labor of supplying feed and will prevent waste.

Where the poultryman feeds a scratch-mash ration, chick size scratch grain can be fed on top of the mash at first, but as the chicks get accustomed to these feed-stuffs they should be supplied in separate equipment. If scratch grain is to be hoppers, additional feeding space must be provided. The same procedure can be followed when chick size grit is fed.

Wire-covered platforms on which the feeders are placed will keep the chicks from feeding in contaminated areas because wasted feed will be out of reach. Mr. Tritt says.

He reminds that hoppers should be placed about the brooder hovers perpendicular to windows to give maximum light over the equipment and like the spokes of a wheel to give the chicks easy access to the hoppers. With electric hoppers, feeders are placed partly under the hover for the first

SHEFFIELD TWP. SCHOOL BOARD HEARS REPORTS

Sheffield, March 15.—A special meeting of the Sheffield township school board for the purpose of reviewing and discussing the results of action recently taken to lower the incidence of tuberculosis in the high school was held last night.

All five members of the board: local physicians, R. L. Taylor and Harvey Beals; Dr. E. S. Briggs, county physician, and school nurse Alice Nelson were present.

It was reported that 235 high school students, 30 teachers of the school system, 3 janitors and one high school office employee took the "patch" test when it was given last week and that all those who showed a positive reaction are currently being x-rayed to determine whether there are any active stage cases. The x-raying is being done at the Warren General and Kane Community hospitals.

The directors made arrangements at last night's meeting to make the "patch" test available to all of the grade school students. These tests will get under way in the very near future, the board reported.

Directors present were C. H. Whitaker, president; Chris Yutze, J. T. Phillips, T. E. Kirch and L. B. Jones.

GARDEN CLUB MEETS

few days so that the chicks can get started properly and learn to go in and out to find comfort.

When the various sizes of equipment have served their purpose, they are cleaned and put away for use by a later brood or next year's chicks. Equipment represents an investment and deserves treatment as such, Mr. Tritt concludes.

Chicago Educators Here Monday

The Pre-School Mothers' Club is anticipating a large attendance Monday evening, when members entertain their husbands and invited guests in Founders Hall of the First Methodist church and are privileged to hear Dr. and Mrs. Garry Cleveland Myers, of Chicago, Ill., editor and associate editor, respectively, of "Children's Activities," a magazine for children published in that city.

Both visitors have taught children and youth at every age level from the first grade to university. Each has taught in several colleges, and both served on the teaching staff of Western Reserve University in Cleveland for a number of years.

THE FELLOWSHIP OF PRAYER

Crowned by Goodness SATURDAY, MARCH 15. "...being by interpretation, King of righteousness." Read Hebrews 6:19-7:3.

Of Melchisedec there is as little to be said as there is little known. He is a name, a memory, a symbol and in retrospect King of Peace because he was King of Righteousness.

It is the last title that counts because it recalls us to the supremacy of righteousness as the final test of any enterprise and the sovereign condition of any peace.

The very air is full of questions: "Will it pay?" "Will it win?" "Will it last?" "Can I get away with it?" The master question of all goes unasked by War Lords and Power Lords. "Is it right?" Right and wrong sit behind the final bars of judgment, say the last word about pride and power and all their enterprises. They are "of the nature of things." Earth and sea and sky are their witnesses, and the long issues of life.

Clear moral judgments possess an illuminating power no other judgments have. They do not promise to make life easy; they do make it strong, wise, victorious. To be regal in righteousness is to have won the noblest of coronations.

PRAYER: Grant to us, Lord, we beseech Thee, the spirit to think and do always such things as be rightful; that we who cannot do anything that is good without Thee, may be thus enabled to live according to Thy will and being sufficient in righteousness may be rewarded by peace, through Jesus Christ, our Lord. Amen.

TRAINING CAMP BRIEFS

Los Angeles.—The play of Pete Suder, rookie third sacker, has won the praise of everyone connected with the Athletics and Connie Mack seldom misses a chance to commend him. "He's the smoothest felder I've seen since Larry Lajoie. He certainly looks good now," said Mack.

West Palm Beach, Fla.—Manager Doc Prothro still could grin today, even though his Phillies were walloped by the New York Giants in their first exhibition yesterday. His pleasure came from the fact that Nick Etten and Mickey Livingston, two newcomers, contributed home runs.

San Diego, Calif.—The Pirates hoped to find some peace and sunshine here for a week-end series with the San Diego Padres. The Pirates were rained out by their last two scheduled games and then were in a bus accident on the way here. None of the players was hurt, but a motorist was killed.

Would you trade A MINUTE FOR AN HOUR?

OF COURSE YOU WOULD! And isn't this just about what you do when you pay by check? Very often a minute spent writing checks will save an hour paying bills with cash. Also, a canceled check is a valid receipt for payment.

THE COST IS NOMINAL. For example: If you maintain an account with a monthly balance averaging from $100 to $200 you can draw ten checks without charge. If the balance averages less than $100 or falls below $50, there is a small maintenance charge, according to the number of checks drawn.

Remarkable Improvement in Soldiers at Indiantown Gap Reported by Commander

Indiantown Gap, Mar. 15.—(P)—A "most remarkable" improvement in Pennsylvania's soldiers in their first two weeks of a year's training was reported today by Major General Edward Martin, 28th Division commander.

"They're fit and they're eager," said the commander who gets in to the training areas and personally sizes up his men as often as administrative duties permit.

"The first two weeks of this big training job has put snap and efficiency into the men," the general added. "With men like these we'll be ready for anything whenever we're called."

The general disclosed that he had been consulted by the governor to determine the availability of the Pennsylvania soldiers should any flood crisis develop this spring. Since the division is in federal service any request for aid, such as the regiments gave in the disastrous flood of 1936, would have to be made by the governor to President Roosevelt.

any emergency, it was understood, there would be little difficulty in getting federal permission to use the soldiers.

"Ten minutes notice is all we need to start moving," General Martin said.

The soldiers didn't need any notice to start moving today, the first warm Saturday since they arrived in camp. Everyone who could get away was on his way home or preparing to entertain friends and relatives over the weekend. The men who didn't go on pass last weekend were entitled to this weekend. Only half of a company may be on pass at one time.

SURPRISES AHEAD IN FINAL CHECK ON OLYMPIC HANDS

BY WM. E. MCKENNEY America's Card Authority

In analyzing last year's World Bridge Olympic hands, I discovered an interesting situation in hand No. 16. Ordinarily we figured that North would get into a six club contract, which he could make by establishing a diamond trick on which to discard a losing heart.

He does this by leading the three of diamonds, refusing the finesse, and then coming back with a small diamond toward the nine. Now the opponents cannot prevent the establishing of a second diamond trick.

In a game in Venezuela, however, East-West pair ventured four spades and was doubled. North and South should cash a spade, two hearts, a diamond and a club, thus setting the contract 500. When the score came in showing East-West losing only four tricks, we reasoned that South must have refused to play the ace of diamonds when East led the tenspot. But we were informed later that the ace of diamonds made. What happened was that the defenders won only one heart trick!

South opened the ace of clubs. Seeing the diamonds over him in dummy, he ran for heart tricks, leading the three-spot.

HELP GREECE—CALL IT AN INVESTMENT IN DEMOCRACY

This Isn't Your Little Girl

If your little girl is hungry, you go to the ice box and get her something to eat.

If your little girl cuts her finger, you go to the medicine chest and get some iodine and a piece of bandage.

If there is terror in the heart of your little girl, you take her in your arms and still her fears.

BUT—This little girl isn't yours! She cannot go to the ice box, though her hunger is keen. She has shrapnel cuts on her little body and there is terror in her tender little heart.

YOU can help this little girl, one of the suffering non-combatants in stricken Greece. You can help her by sending any amount of money you can spare... a dollar... a hundred or a thousand dollars. The Need is immediate and Dire!
